after a two days' trial. The action was brought by the assignee of Augustus Spanear, who placed the treasure, valued at $6,000, in charge of Wm. H. Backus, the messenger of the company. At Jamaics, W. I., it was stoler from the steamer feorgis, and now suit was brought to recover the value, the plaint ff claiming the responsibility of the company to the ac so it the agent. The delay est as a scommon case as agent of the sompany, out merely as an accommon case as agent of the sompany, out merely as an accommon right to do so, as he was only authorized by the company to take charge of merchandize, but not treasure. The evidence being concluded the Contrabunited three propasitions to the jury:—ist, whether the gold dust was given to the measurer as agent of the company 24, what was its value; and 3d, whether it was lost through the wegingence or careleseness of the agent. The jury, after a bite celleration, decised in the affirmative on the next of the plaint. This is the second trial, the result of which is similar to the first.

The rresiden remained, and was talking with the guardmen who had been struck, and who knocked the student down, ascertaining from him the facts, when two of the student storced the meetwes in, and commenced an attack on the guardmen, striking him, and he retaining very sewerely on them. They were probably struck, too, by others of the guard. They were forced out of the guard house.

very severely in them. Hey were probably attack, too, you have as it the guard. They were forced out of the guard house.

By this time the students had again assembled. The President and Mayor were unable to quell the riot; the alasm bell was rung and the citizons called up out of their bees to winess and suppress, it necessary, the action of the students. At length they returned to the college. The President, text morning, by the consent of the Mayor, proposed to subratt the whole matter to the arbitrament of twelve named gendlemen. To this the young men acceded at one time, but the two young men engaged in the diair this proceeding night finally prevailed on a majority to reject this proposition for peace and good crose. It is stated that they had agreed to seek and obtain satisfaction out of the gua dimen. They left the college without the knowledge of the students, and were seen, which their clocks around them, approaching the guardman who was speaking to a geatleman on the subject of withdrawing from the guard, as he regarded his life in danger. As soon as the young men were near enough they dropped their clocks had both atract the guardman, one with an iron and the other with a wooden bindgeon. He is it to his knees, but rese and struck with his stick, and, others assisting him, beat the young men were severely. The guardman's self hand is, I am told, broken by the bloes, and he and the two young men are under the care of obvictions from the mining which they respec-oes, and he and the two young men are under the tre of physicians from the mjuries which they respect care of physicians from the injuries which they respec-tively received.

The cry of "College!" was borne by a single student to the compus. The young men, with their accustomed devotion to their brothers in cistress, were soon in the field. The alarm bell was again rung, the citizens were turned out, sid, as a posse comitatus, were paraded under arms. The boys returned to college, forced the room where the rifles of this college were kept, possessed themselves of them, and returned to the field of action. The reene thus presented was such as Chumbia neva-before saw, and which, I hope, she never, will again see Two hundred armed citizen, with guns toaded with ball cartridges, opposed to more than a hundred enraged cartridges, opposed to more than a hundred enraged young mer, with rilles in their hands. The order to take sim was given, and a fire neight have followed, had not Colotel Goodwin and others thrown themselves between and called on the citizens not to live. After much persuasion by Dr. Thornwell, La Borce, Lieber and others of the faculty, the students were induced to return to colsussien by Dr. Phornwell, La Borce, Liebec and others of the faculty, the students were induced to return to college.

Last night we went to the college in the dicharge of our cuty. Every thing was quiet. I did not even hear a "whosp," which is very unusual. To-day was equally quiet, and I have been assured by the young mea that there will be no durther outbreak on their part. To-day, on the requisition of the Board, the riffles were deposited in the room where they were formerly kept. The Governor, under the direction of the Board, will take the arms and place them in the arsenal. The musters of the college counpany are directed to be suspended, and the propriety of suppressing and disconding the college company is referred to a committee, to report next May.

This statement, gathered from the best sources in my power, places the facts before you. The unfortunate violance of the guardman in knocking down a student who, when drunk, struck him, is the cause of this affair, which may so much logine the college. The fact of drunk kenness among the students shows to the Legislature the necessity of removing this fearful curse of mischlef from the town of Columbia.

The occasional meeting of the Board had no power to do more than they did. A great duty will devolve on the Roard at the stated meeting in May to examine lute the college, both as to its internal and external government; and full and adequate justice must be done to the iscuity, the students and the State. Mr. Revos, of Charleston, was elected to fill Dr. Henry's chair nutil the stated meeting in May. Your friend, eting in May. Your friend, JOHN BELTON O'NEALL.

First—an article is going the rounds of the management Court of Common Piess decreed in a recent case that Fairbanks' scales are the standard.

That question arose before the Court, which is one of finited and local jurisdiction, and whose decisions have no vanidity beyond the county in a case involving the relative abouracy of Fairbanks' scales and those of mosher manufacturer, not ours, the particular case before the Court; and it is sufficient to say that although the Fairbanks' scale was shown to be more accurate than the other, and hence was decided in that case to govern, if forms no evitence that as between other makers it is more accurate, or that a precedent is established to govern other cases. It will hard, ybe pretended that a case decided in a local and inferior court upon facts arising upon the particular case and between two makers is to serve as establishing by law for all tarritory and for all time, and in relation to the manufactures of all makers of sales, any flox.
